SURPRISE BOSS away in apparent good order, vied during the very initial stages for control before being allowed to assume a stalking role, sat forwardly placed three wide keeping watch on the front runner, got let out a notch in the general area of the five-sixteenths pole, settled in upper stretch and was turned loose, began the last eighth hooked up in battle with SWASHBUCKLE, wore that foe in a steadfast manner, getting the job done with three jumps or so to spare before the wire. SWASHBUCKLE involved early for the lead, went on to prompt the pace from the two path, saw the leader offer no resistance after confronting that opponent right around the three-sixteenths pole, gained a narrow advantage with the winner bearing down hard just to the outside, dug in well only to get reeled in at the shadow of the finish line. KING ANGELO off the inside throughout, underwent a three wide pursuit on the bend, got maneuvered one path farther off the rail in upper stretch, narrowed in on the ones to catch en route for the show award. ALPHALFA settled into the two path by the conclusion of the backstretch, chased the pace from between rivals during the run around the bend, was about as wide during most of the stretch, lacked a winning bid. RUNNINGWSCISSORS pinched at the start, after undergoing a series of light bumps with others, sat parked out four wide on the turn, tipped into the five path after spinning into the stretch, ventured onward after having been virtually the widest of all to no avail. NOT PHAR NOW was briskly hand ridden to assume control after bumping lightly with RUNNINGWSCISSORS at the start, glided over to the inside once sufficiently in the clear, felt an uptick in pressure as the half was being completed, offered no resistance releasing lead a sixteenth later and steadily backed away. VALMONT tracked the leader from the inside for the opening half after making some contact with that foe at the break, moved a path wider coming home, then was allowed to fade away while mildly encouraged.

Footnotes

COUSTEAU shied inward slightly and away from its next stall neighbor as the field was sent off and running, was kept on hold tailing the pacesetter from the two path for nearly three-quarters, was yet on hold taking over as the third fraction was being finalized, shifted onto the inside route when asked for a run a sixteenth down the road, dug in well during the last eighth to preserve the decision. LUNI SIMA momentarily taken hold of at the start feeling some pressure from the outside, settled into the two path shortly afterwards, stayed within striking distance of the front runners, sat poised to strike as six furlongs was being rattled off, tipped one path farther off the rail at the head of the stretch and had the pilot go to work, displayed willingness but got staved off by an opponent up to the task at hand. BLAKE B. four wide onto the turn and then exiting it, narrowly won the third place check. AIR SHOW towards the back of the pack for the initial half, stepped onto the turn from the two path, swung out five wide spinning into the stretch, inched up, fell short of snagging third. BOLD VICTORY off the inside throughout, pursued the pace three wide on the turn, fanned out into the six path for clearance during the opening stages of the stretch run, becoming the widest of them all, gained but done without much impact. ONCE A GIANT came in slightly at the start, straightened course and took up position in the three path, kept pace with the front runners before weakening. JAKE ROCKS briefly hustled to the top, showed the way from the inside for three-quarters before giving way. INVISIBLE WAR saved ground until the vicinity of three-sixteenths pole, had no rally and fell back. ROYAL TRYST sighted two wide at the top of the turn, went into the five path for entrance into the stretch, came up empty.
